Re: Sliders Publicity Plan

February 18, 1998

STRATEGY: “Sliders” is being pitched to the press as a thought-provoking adventure series with an attractive, youthful cast headed by feature film star Jerry O’Connell. We can downplay the few negatives associated with the show, (IE. It was canceled by FOX due to low ratings) by emphasizing that “Sliders” belongs on Sci-Fi Channel – a futuristic network that specializes in science-fiction programming. This year the series will be even more accessible since the storyline will be stressed over special effects. There will be more humor injected into the series this year and a concentration on the relationships between the characters (IE Maggie and Quinn; Quinn and Colin).

EARLY PRESS EFFORTS:

- June 23rd—Sci-Fi pickup announcement release (press clippings on file)
- January Highlights package sent to over 200 press outlets highlighted March 2nd debut of off-network shows
- Sept-April (various on set coverage/on-line chats)
- Jan 19th—Cast was featured at the Jan. press tour in Pasadena. A full house of press was in attendance. Many feature stories are being banked from the session.

PRESS MATERIALS:

- Mini-press kit: (Bios; lead sheet; B&W cast photo) was distributed at the Jan. TCA
- Photos: an extensive gallery shoot was done in January with terrific results. (Caroline and I are in the process of making selects for the kit which we will run by you for input) We’d like to include three black & white photos and with eight color slides in each kit.
- New Season Press Kit: In progress. (Lead sheet is being updated; bios are completed; show synopses are nearly complete; cast and production credits are being compiled.

TIMELINE FOR GENERAL PRESS:

Neil, Diane, Let's talk during the week to discuss the plan and to make sure that we're all on the same page re: publicity. Since you've been with the show from its inception we are particularly interested in your comments and suggestions.
